Integration of QR/Barcode with ERP System

OVERVIEW

Every industry has its uniqueness. For any manufacturing firm, whether they are into process manufacturing or discrete manufacturing, whether the end output is measured in terms of volume or numbers, one thing which stays in common between them is to manage stock/inventory and to stay up-to-date with the changing business environment with the new technologies and ever-changing customer needs.

CHALLENGES

A managing warehouse is the tough task and performing it manually with an ample amount of data is there to process and analyze it becomes tedious. Any ERP with a Warehouse Management System module cannot do the full justice to the system.

- Increased Inventory Overstock Issues
- Imbalanced Incoming And Outgoing Records
- Increased Office Expenses
- Manual Errors In Inventory Stocking And Dispatching
- Poor Customer Services

SOLUTION

It is advisable to integrate the barcode scanning system to the existing ERP. It is the proven solution for manufacturing, inventory and distribution distress. A barcode scanner is the most used and accessible method and can help to transform your inefficient business to the productive one when integrated with ERP like Dynamics ERP.
